The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, teachers and writers on Materia Medica who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

THE FACTS OF HISTORY.

On reading the remarks of the Rev. Mr. Carpenter on the recent occasion of the thanksgiving services in Christ Church, as reported in the Gazette, I wondered where he had obtained the data for his strange assertion that the first colonists came to Virginia to "found a home for religious liberty," for all the authentic historic records inform us that the spirit and animating element of the Jamestown colony was of the "gentlemen" cavaliers accompanying the expedition who were royalists, and in entire unity with the doctrines and usages of the national or Anglican church which at that time was warring against all dissenters of whatever name and religious belief. Religious reform had already commenced in England, but these colonists had taken no part in it. None of them had been persecuted because of peculiar religious sentiments. None of them had ever dissented from the doctrines of the church and had no grievances against the severe usages of the Episcopal hierarchy. For them there had been in England all the religious liberty they desired. Indeed, so well were they satisfied with the church usages that they thought well to bring them over the seas and transplant them in their new heritage, and so, the Episcopal Church became the established and only church for all who were to cast their lot in Virginia, and regular attendance at its services was enforced by oppressive statutory enactments and all inhabitants alike, whether approvers or dissenters, were taxed or tithed for the support of those services. More than this, no other manner of public service was to be permitted under the severest penalties, as may be verified by reference to "Henning's Statutes of Virginia," Surely this was not the way to open a home for the enjoyment of religious liberty. What would Brother Carpenter say if he should migrate to Mexico or Honduras only to find on his arrival there that his kind of preaching was not wanted and would not be allowed? Such a welcome would hardly be to his liking. But that was just the welcome that all dissenters found when they came to Virginia in colonial times.

The venture of the Jamestown colonists over three thousand miles of ocean wastes to the wilderness lands of the West was one for purely worldly considerations. They were, many of them, persons who were in straits financially, and were hopeful of improving their condition, for which nobody can blame them. The common impression then in England was, that the new country abounded in the precious metal which would make everybody rich in a day.

I wish it to be understood that I do not seek to disparage any just claims which these men have upon the admiration and magnanimity of their posterity for opening a new realm for civilization and making it possible for millions to find homes. But I do wish to see historic events and circumstances correctly stated. Captain John Smith has ever been one of my heroes, and I believe if his counsels had been respected and adopted, and if his successors in the administration of public affairs had been of his character and ability, it would have been better for Virginia in her colonial growth.

No, there was no home for religious liberty, no spot of ground for the meeting house of the dissenter in all Virginia until Patrick Henry, George Mason, Thomas Jefferson and George Washington in their sound common sense views of the relations which should exist between man and man in their enlarged views of human progress and their correct ideas about religious toleration, brought their beneficent influences to bear and prevail for the disestablishment of the Anglican church. It is well for us all to remember that there will be other generations to come after us, and that we must neither suppress nor pervert any parts of the history they are to learn. Says Bancroft in his history of the United States: "The superior council in England, having the direction of the Jamestown colony was permitted to name the colonial council which was constituted a pure aristocracy, entirely independent of the immigrants whom they were to govern; having power to elect or remove its presidents, to remove any of its members and to supply its own vacancies. Not an element of popular liberty was introduced into the form of government. Religion was especially enjoined to be established according to the doctrines and rites of the church of England, and no colonist might withdraw his allegiance from King James nor avow dissent from the royal creed. Lands were to descend according to the common law. Not only murder, manslaughter and adultery, but dangerous tumults and seditions were punishable by death; so that the security of life depended on the discretion of the magistrate restricted only by the necessity of a trial by jury. Drink Plenty of Water.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known physician. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected. Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach." When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was: "You must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. —[Exchange.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 22, 1907.

It is about time that somebody in authority was taking steps to compel the railroads to move back into Alexandria their depots which nearly two years ago they so arbitrarily removed to a considerable distance beyond the city limits. The people of Alexandria are long suffering and of great patience, and the railroads have come to regard them as "easy." Alexandria, a city of upwards of fifteen thousand people, is now practically without a railroad station and such another instance is not to be found in all these United States. The little town of Strasburg resented a similar attempt to "go around the town," and her citizens took the matter before the Corporation Commission, which not only compelled the railroads to establish their station in a convenient location within the town limits, but also required that a suitable depot building be erected in that town. If so with Strasburg why not with Alexandria? The removal of the station to without the city limits was the hardest blow that has been struck Alexandria for many years. The depot is not only outside the city limits, but is in another county; is difficult of approach, and requires considerable time and expense to reach, while but few persons will stop there, owing to the trouble and inconvenience of reaching the city. The people of Alexandria are annually paying large sums in interest on money spent to build these railroads which now have given her the "go by." We have every reason to believe that the Corporation Commission, for the mere asking, would direct that these railroads run their trains into Alexandria as they formerly did. We also believe that anyone purchasing a ticket to Alexandria and who is put off the train in Fairfax county has just ground for a damage suit against these railroads. That these roads are not sure of their ground concerning this matter is clearly shown by the removal of their freight station back to this city after having established it at the "union" depot. The people of Alexandria who helped to build these roads should, through their proper representatives, demand that the passenger stations be located within the city limits.

There was a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen at the Opera House last night to hear speeches from Messrs. C. C. Carlin, Judge C. E. Nicol and Mr. R. Lindsey Gordon, candidates for Congress from this district. Mr. J. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, was not present. The audience was composed of supporters of all three candidates, and while the applause which greeted the appearance of Mr. Carlin was loud and prolonged, as was expected in his home city, Mr. Gordon and Judge Nicol were hailed with great delight. Notwithstanding the commingling of supporters of the rival candidates, there was no unseemly conduct to mar the meeting, all recognizing the fact that a friendly contest was in progress within the democratic camp and that the district would be safe no matter which of the quaternian was selected as Congressman. There were virtually no issues over which to wrangle, and about all there is to be done by the democratic voters of the district is to select one of four capable and well-known candidates to represent them in the United States House of Representatives. The speakers realized this, and the remarks which they made were flavored with a vein of pleasantry which the adherents of each candidate relished. The speakers said nothing that any democrat could not subscribe to. The meeting throughout was enjoyable, as was evidenced by the fact that the hall remained crowded until the late hour at which the gathering dispersed.

The Standard Oil monopoly in all its monstrosity of misdoing has again been officially exposed. But punishment does not follow upon exposure. The managers continue to defiantly break the laws intended to protect independent producers and dependent consumers. Here is furnished the great opportunity for President Roosevelt, who says he likes to hunt big game.

R. H. Milam, a white farmer, living near Moultrie, Ga., went to Thomasville late Monday night to have his wounds dressed, which he asserts were inflicted on him by a band of whitecaps. He told a harrowing story of being given 100 lashes because he wouldn't work.

From Washington.

[Correspondende of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, May 22.

The most damaging testimony yet introducted in the negro soldier investigation, was that given today by Herbert Elkin, a clerk, of Brownville, Tex. He declared emphatically to the senate committee that he clearly saw negro soldiers shoot up the town. He was at the window of his room in the Leahy Hotel and saw two soldiers shoot into the Cowan House. From eight to fifteen other soldiers, following, stopped underneath his window, he declared, and he was able to see them clearly, and hear them distinctly. They went toward the Miller house, which was fired into about that time. Later he saw soldiers, with guns in their hand, hurrying back to the barracks. He said a company of soldiers were sent out to patrol the town and he heard one of them say while in front of the Cowan House that they would come back the next day and complete their work.

A great deal of the office furniture and paraphernalia that is to be installed in Secretary Loeb's quarters at Oyster Bay this summer has been packed and is ready to be shipped. The "Summer Capital" will be located as usual on the second floor of provision store building. The President's home, Sagamore Hill, is some three miles and a half from the village offices, and in order to keep the executive in touch with the work of his administration, the secretary will make daily trips to and from the Roosevelt residence. According to Secretary Loeb the President will spend a very quiet summer at Oyster Bay this year. Visitors at Sagamore Hill will be few and far between and unless they are close friends of the family will be required to give a pretty good reason for their coming if they are allowed to intrude upon the President's vacation rest.

The Department of Justice is pushing its investigation of the mineral land frauds in western States. Many thousand acres of coal land have been already voluntarily returned by railways and corporations, and additional holdings are expected to be released without prosecution. The number of acres of coal lands illegally held in Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and some adjoining States, will run into the millions. The lands in many cases are so valuable that the holders will resist all peaceful efforts to make them disgorge, and stubborn suits in the courts are expected.

When the Interstate Commerce Commission resumed its hearing today into the complaints against the railroads preferred by the National Petroleum Association, consisting of independent dealers in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Canada, the question of the reasonableness of rates on oil shipped from Chicago to St. Paul and Omaha was taken up. Frank E. F. Fretter, Secretary of the National Refining Company, of Cleveland was the principal witness. He said that the Standard Oil Transports oils from its refineries at Whiting, Ind., to Duluth and other lake ports during the summer by pipe lines and by steamship at a low rate. This being true, the Standard Oil was anxious to have the rates on railroads, while it was necessary for the national refining company, to use, to be kept as high as possible. Attorney Davis, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul asked how, even with a reduction of this rate five cents, the National Refining Company could compete with the Standard oil with a 13 cent rate from the Kansas fields to Omaha. Fretter replied by saying that eastern oil was better than Kansas oil.

Six Persons Killed in Fight.

A dispatch from Reidsville, Ga., says: As the result of an attack by Fiem Padgett, a negro, on Mrs. Laura Moore, widow of ex-Representative Moore, six persons have been shot to death and four are seriously wounded.

The dead are James Hare, white, and John Padgett, Guy Padgett, Flem Padgett, Jane Padgett, and Sarah Padgett, negroes. The wounded are Henry Jones, Sam Archer, Felix Lovett, and Gray Johnson, all white.

The tragedy occurred at the home of John Padgett, where a crowd of whites went to seek Flem Padgett, accused of attacking Mrs. Moore, with the avowed purpose of lynching him. The Padgett home was surrounded by armed men, and a demand for the negro was made.

The negro's father came to the door and said his son was not within, and invited them to come in and search the house. As members of the posse entered the door, Flem Padgett, the negro wanted, opened fire, killing James Hare and wounding four other white men.

The white men put a guard around the house and sent for reinforcements, which soon came. Then volleys were poured into the Padgett home from all sides, until the house was almost rent to pieces.

After half an hour, members of the posse ventured into the house, and found every member of the family dead. The bodies of the negroes were riddled.

Five Men Killed.

For the third time within six months, the Eliza group of furnaces, of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, at Pittsburg, was the scene of a frightful accident yesterday evening at 5:30 o'clock. There was another "slip," a frightful explosion, molten metal hurled about among the workmen, and last night five charred and blackened bodies are at the county morgue. Four other men are dying in a hospital, and still another is seriously injured at his home, and there are several missing. Among the dead are two assistant superintendents and one of the injured is also an assistant superintendent.

There were seven other men working at the mouth of the furnace, when, without a moment's warning, the explosion occured.

With the explosion, the metal burst as a sheet from the furnace, covering the unfortuante men completely. Men from the other furnaces were leaving for their homes at the time of the explosion, and it is feared that there will be others added to the death list as a number of men are reported missing.

DETECTIVE WORK.

Just as an intelligent detective sets himself to discover the identity of the perpetrator of a crime that seems mysterious, so the medical man go to work to discover the origin of the troubles of his patients. He knows that in most cases some of the organs of the body are not performing their functions properly, and knowing that in a large percentage of cases the action of the bowels is at fault, he early inquires whether his patient is constipated. If so, the physician knows that if a cure is to be effected, the constipation must not be only relieved, but permanently remedied, and that in order to accomplish this certain muscles must be given new strength and elasticity. For this purpose successful medical men pin their faith to a preparation of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, ½ oz Rochelle Salts, 1 oz. Aro-Sagrada, 30 grains Bicarbonate of Soda, ½ oz. water and 1½ ozs. Glycerine. Of this the patient is given a teaspoonful at bedtime and before each meal, the treatment being continued until there is free movement of the bowels. This simple prescription can be put up by any good druggist.

Today's Telegraphic News

Minister's Resignation Demanded.

Dracut, Mass., May 22.—Following the sensational driving from his home last night of the Rev. Owen James, pastor of the Congregational Church here, this town today is badly split into factions for and against the minister. Rev. James is young and enthusiastic in his religious work. The congregation demanded his resignation. He replied that he would take his time about tendering it. Last night a large crowd of town people who held a different view called on Rev. James and told him the church would be closed and he would be driven out of town if he did not leave at once. James was a passenger on the next trolly out of the city. Amid tooting horns and the jeers of his former "flock" he was escorted a good part of the distance. Then the people returned to their homes to talk the matter over.

Another Missing Child.

Wilmington, Del., May 22.—What may be another Horace Marvin case developed here today when it was announced by the police that little Francis Malley, the four-year-old son of James H. Malley, a well-to-do citizen, suddenly disappeared yesterday and his whereabouts is a mystery. The police learned today that the little fellow was seen talking to an Italian late yesterday and the police are working on the theory that the boy has been kidnapped. The mother of the missing child is distracted, and is in a serious condition. At the time of the boy's disappearance he wore a dark blue flannel bloomer suit, dark stockings and shoes. He is light complexioned and has large blue eyes and long curls.

Another "Evelyn."

Wheeling, W. Va., May 22.—Pretty Bessie Criswell Burton, "the diamond queen," on trial on a charge of feloniously obtaining $2,100 worth of diamonds, told the jury that her accuser, Jeweler H. E Hillman, was a West Virginia Stanford White, alleging that he treated her much the way Evelyn Nesbit said White treated her—minus the doped wine feature, however. She swore that Hillman sought her acquaintance in 1901 when she was a clerk in a millinery store and enticed her away, when he accomplished his purpose. Afterward the girl confessed she was a frequent caller at Hillman's rooms and that he often made her presents of jewelry and loans of money.

Serious Rioting.

New York, May 22.—Serious rioting, in which shots were fired, occurred today at the entrance to the Atlantic Basin in South Brooklyn in connection with the longshoremen's strike. A lively battle resulted before the reserves could quell the strikers and strike-breakers. Three hundred non-union men were stopped while going to work by strikers who urged them to quit. It is said one of the non-union men struck a striker. Instantly the street was filled with fighting men, while rocks flew and clubs were wielded. In the melee Michael Stubbs, a strike breaker, is said to have fired a revolver. Police reserves rushed to the scene and restored order. Stubbs was arrested.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

Columbus, Ohio, May 22.—The Presbyterian General Assembly devoted today to hearing reports from the foreign mission board. A resolution urging that the moral influence of the church be brought to bear on the publishers of church literature to exclude patent medicine advertising suspected of being misleading was discussed, as also was a resolution recommending international peace conferences. It was unanimously voted not to change the church name from the "Presbyterian Church in the United States of America" to "The American Presbyterian Church." The temperance problem will come up for solution late today.

Violence in San Francisco.

San Francisco, May 22.—By far the most serious act of violence that has marked the carmen's strike took place early today when sympathizers threw a chain over the main power line of the company and connected it with a trolley wire. The power wire carried a current of 13,200 volts, and when this current went into trolley circuit all wires in the vicinity were burned out with a blinding flash. All car lines on the north side of the city will be out of commission for at least one day and possible two.

Marital Entanglements.

Boston, May 22.—Extraordinary marital entanglements in the life of Jos. F. Greenough, who died on March 20, 1906, leaving his heirs to fight over a fortune of $2,000,000, are revealed by the will contest now before the supreme court. An agreement between counsel reached in court proved that Greenough was married to two women still living and married twice to one of them, though never divorced as far as known. At the time of his death he was living alone.

Work of Train Wreckers.

Los Angeles, May 22.—Train wreckers caused the ditching of the south bound Coaster, the Daylight Limited of the Southern Pacific, one mile north of this city early today. One man was killed and twenty-two injured, ten of them fatally. The train, three hours late, was running at 45 miles an hour. The engine ran 100 yards on the ties after hitting the open rails. All of the train except two cars went into the ditch, piling up over the tender.

Mr. Mansfield's Condition.

London, May 22.—Richard Mansfield was feeling better today after his bad attack on the steamer Minneapolis coming to England from the United States. He was much stronger than when he to had be carried from the steamer to the train at Tilbury. It will be some time, however, before he will be himself again.

The Haywood Case.

Boise, Idaho, May 22.—Owing to the forced adjournment taken yesterday on account of the exhaustion of the venire, both sides in the Haywood murder trial are resting today. The sheriff and his deputies have begun their search of the remotest districts in the hope of finding good timber for jury service.

Boy Gave the Signal.

New York, May 22.—The fact that a ten-year-old boy was allowed to wave a green lantern giving the signal for a clear track to a surface car, is given today by the police as the cause for the collision last night between the car and "L" train in which 50 persons were hurt at Bath Beach.

Race War in Georgia.

Claxton, Ga., May 22.—The greatest excitement still prevails today following the race war outbreak last night over an attempt to lynch a negro in which one white man and five negroes were killed. Feeling runs so high that a recurrence of trouble may result at any moment.

There has been no word from the posse pursuing Flem Padgett, the negro wanted for an alleged assault upon Mrs. Laura Moore, a white woman, except an unconfirmed rumor that he had been overtaken and killed in a barn. Padgett's death is certain if he is captured.

The fighting occurred at the home of Sim Padgett, father of the negro, wanted for assault. A posse demanded to be allowed to search the house. When they appeared within a few yards of the house they were fired upon and John Hare killed. Four other white men were wounded. The fire was returned killing Sim Padgett, two of his daughters and wounding two sons. Flem Padgett got away during the firing. Later one of the wounded negroes and Flem Padgett's wife were filled with bullets. Another negro was taken to Reidsville and lodged in jail. A mob formed to get him, but no word has come of them.

Remarkable Nerve.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—Seldom has the nerves of man been put to such a severe test as in the case of Patrick Greeely, and rarely has a man displayed such remarkable fortitude as did Greely on the operating table of the Methodist Hospital during the early hours today. With eyes wide open and totally indifferent to the terrible pain he must have been suffering, Greely stoically watched a surgeon amputate both his legs, the right at the hip and the left just above the knee. When the operation was over he thanked the doctor and the attendants and after assuring them that he would be all right in a few days he closed his eyes and went to sleep. He awoke this morning in cheerful spirits and asked his nurse how he was getting along. When told that it was too early to say anything definite about his condition he replied: "Well, I feel all right, so I guess I'll be out of here soon."

Ferry Boat Capsized.

Vienna, Austria, May 22.—A ferry boat on the Morava river capsized today near Posarevac, Servia, drowning twenty peasant women and three babies.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 22.—There was a good deal of liquidation in the market at the opening during the early part of the first hour causing renewed weakness and some further declines in the general list. But before the hour ended a better tone was established and large part of the early losses were recovered. The improvement that developed in the market at the end of the first hour continued during the rest of the forenoon and at midday nearly everything was above the closing yesterday.

There were many shifting movements in afternoon. Advances of 2 to over 3 points noted around midday were followed in the late dealing by a reaction of 1 to 1 1-2 points.

Death of Col. Taylor.

Colonel Erasmus Taylor died Monday at the residence of his son Mr. Jacquelin Taylor, a prominent tobacconist of Henson, N. C. Col. Taylor was a native of Orange county, and was in his seventy-seventh year. He was the son of Dr. Edmund Pendleton and Mrs. Mildred Turner Taylor, of "Meadow Farm," Orange county, where he lived for most of his long and useful life. Colonel Taylor married early in life Miss Roberta Ashby, of Fauquier county, a near relative of the famous cavalry leader, Turner Ashby, and who died several years since. He leaves the following children: Mr. Jacquelin P. Taylor, of Henderson, N. C.; Mr. J. A. Taylor, of Philadelphia; Mr. E. P. Taylor and Mrs. W. W. Burgess, of Orange county; Mrs. A. B. Coyce and Mrs. George R. Pope, of New York city; Mrs. George A. Smith and Mrs. Paulus A. Irving, of Richmond. Colonel Taylor served all during the civil war as quartermaster on the staff of General Longstreet. To the end of his life he talked of his war experiences in a most interesting way. Colonel Taylor was a splendid type of a Virginia gentleman of the old school, a man of fine presence, courtly manner and address, and possessed of fine conversational powers.

Arranged for Primaries.

The democratic committee of the Eighth congressional district of Virginia met yesterday afternoon in the Metropolitan Hotel, in Washington. The primaries, called for June 19, to choose a nominee to succeed the late Representative Rixey, was the main subject of discussion.

There were present at the meeting three of the four candidates—C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria, Judge Nicol, of Prince William county, and Lindsay Gordon, of Louisa county. Mr. J. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, could not attend. The members of the committee, G. S. Shakelford, chairman; Gardner L. Boothe, of Alexandria; Grenville Gaines, of Warrenton; Thomas H. Lion, of Manassas, and Raleigh T. Greene, of Culpeper, were present and perfected plans to formulate rules for the primary.

The meeting, it is said, was held in Washington because that city was more convenient for the members of the committee than was Alexandria, which is some distance from the railway station.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Fred. D. Grant on the subject of the taking of these things by guests when it was only intended that gold pin souvenirs presented by the duke to his guests should be taken from the ship.

It is further stated that detectives are at work on the matter, with the names of all the women and other guests on the flagship Varese that night, and a general request will be made that all articles of silverware, &c., taken from the Varese be returned to the duke, the explanation being made that only the gold souvenir pins are to be kept.

Meeting Last Night.

The Opera House was packed last night with friends of the respective candidates for Congress from this district. Numbers of persons from Fairfax and Alexandria counties were in the audience, and the galleries were filled with ladies.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. Charles Bendheim, chairman of the city democratic committee, called the meeting to order. Messrs. C. C. Carlin, Judge C. E. Nicol and Mr. R. Lindsey Gordon appeared on the stage at the time and the friends of each went off in spasms of applause. Among those who occupied seats on the stage were Messrs. John A. Marshall, R. H. Cox and Robinson Moncure.

There was no band to add to the enthusiasm, and the meeting, which had been called in the interest of Mr. Gordon, proceeded to business immediately.

Mr. Bendheim advanced to the footlights and in a few remarks introduced Mr Carlin as the first speaker, referring to him as a young Alexandrian, known to all and a "home product."

When Mr. Carlin arose he was received with vociferous and long-continued applause, and before he could utter a word three gentlemen in the audience, each bearing a magnificent floral tribute, walked upon the stage and deposited their testimonials by his side. They consisted of huge horseshoes composed of choice roses.

Upon one piece appeared the following: "For Hon. C. C. Carlin from his democratic friends in Alexandria;" another read as follows: "To Alexandria's candidate, Hon. C. C. Carlin, from his schoolmates and friends;" on the last was inscribed: "With the compliments of the voters of Alexandria county, Virginia, presented by Master Norris L. Heath."

This incident brought forth renewed applause which continued for several minutes.

When order had been restored Mr. Carlin expressed his appreciation of the reception tendered him and for the tokens which had been placed by his side, but said it was not his intention to make a political speech on the occasion. He referred to the fact that when he visited Louisa Courthouse recently Mr. Gordon had declined to make a political speech in his own county at that time, but had stood aside and given the field to Judge Nicol and the speaker. He would, therefore, give the time to Mr. Gordon and Judge Nicol. Mr. Carlin said he felt confident of winning at home, and had therefore devoted most of his energies in canvassing in other parts of the district. He again thanked his friends for the confidence they had expressed in him and took his seat amidst much applause.

Mr. Gordon was next introduced. He was also received with applause. The greater portion of Mr. Gordon's speech was directed to Judge Nicol, and while a vein of pleasantry and good natured rivalry was uppermost, there were times when the speaker grew serious. Mr. Gordon devoted much of his time to the part he took in the late constitutional convention, especially his action in voting to proclaim the new constitution. He said that, with all the alleged faults of the instrument, the suffrage clause alone made it a decided improvement on the old Underwood constitution. Mr. Gordon read Judge Nicol's card announcing his candidacy, and said that it was a magnificent tribute to "his honor," but that he would rather have seen the name of some one else signed to it. He said that Judge Nicol had been sacrificing things so long that he was now ready to sacrifice himself and go to Congress. Mr. Gordon said he was not opposed to organized labor, as had been rumored of him, but had voted for the fellow-servants' liability bill, which had failed to pass the legislature after a ten years' fight. He complimented President Roosevelt on his position in reference to combinations in restraint of trade. The speaker devoted the latter part of his speech to national issues and movements for the advancement of the State of Virginia. He took his seat amidst much applause.

The audience was now anxious to hear Judge Nicol's rejoinder to Mr. Gordon's criticism, and when the former arose he was hailed with considerable applause. The judge said he was glad of the opportunity to speak for himself, and before he began his speech he paid his respects to the many ladies present, thanking them for their attendance. The speaker said he was no stranger in Alexandria, that most of his business ties were in this city, and he was naturally interested in Alexandria's welfare. Should he be sent to Congress this city might rest assured that her interests would receive due attention. Most of Mr. Gordon's speech, the judge said, had been criticisms upon him which seemed to imply that he was the only man he had to whip. In fact, the speaker said, it looked as though Mr. Gordon regarded Mr. Carlin as the underdog. Instead of commenting upon issues before the country, Mr. Gordon's address, the judge said, consisted in the main of excoriations of the speaker. The judge then in a good-natured manner took up each of Mr. Gordon's charges, and turned them to the disadvantage of his opponent. Judge Nicol subsequently reviewed some national issues, announced his approval of the eight-hour law, and his interest in legislation pertaining to the dairy business. He closed by thanking his friends for the interest they were manifesting in his candidacy, and took his seat amid much applause.

Previous to the adjournment of the meeting Mr. Schade, of Dranesville, who was present in the gallery with a number of ladies and gentleman from Fairfax county, arose and expressed appreciation of the meeting, and made some pleasant remarks concerning Alexandria.

The meeting adjourned about 10:45.

A little son of Mr. George Wells, living at the corner of Queen and Pitt streets, had one of his fingers seriously injured this morning by the explosion of a cartridge.

Sunday School Institute.

The Sunday School Institute of Washington district, M. E. Church South, was opened this morning in the M. E. Church South, in this city, at 9:30 o'clock with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. E. V. Regester. A large number of persons interested in Sunday school work were present, including many from other denominations. A number of interesting and instructive addresses were delivered.

The programme was as follows:

9.30 devotional exercises, Rev. E. V. Regester; temporary organization; appointment of committee on permanent organization; 10:00, addresses—"Sunday School Aims"—To have a live superintendent, A. L. After the morning session a sumptuous lunch was served in the Sunday school room of the church, and was heartily enjoyed.

Tonight's programme will be as follows:

8:00, devotional exercises, Rev. W. H. Ballenger; 8:15, address, "The organized Adult Class," A. B. Pugh, esq.; 8:35, address, "Sunday School Management," Rev. Charles Alvin Smith, pastor of Peck Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Fights.

A fight took place between two white men Monday night near the intersection of Prince and Royal streets. During the trouble a man who was endeavoring to disarm one of the combatants struck his arm against a broken pane of glass and an artery in his wrist was severed. Blood spouted from the wound and the injured man sought a physician as soon as possible. He left a trail of blood from the scene of the cutting to the doctor's office.

Trouble between a negro man and negro woman in the southwestern section of the city this morning caused some excitement. The woman said the man cut her and took from her 50 cents. She pursued him in to the Wilkes street tunnel where she lost sight of him.

A colored man at the corner of King and Alfred streets early last night imagined a dog belonging to a white man was about to bite him, and was acting on the defensive when the owner of the animal struck the darkey. Both men were arrested and this morning the white man was fined $2.50 and the darkey dismissed.

About three o'clock this morning a fight occurred between some white men at Queen and Royal streets, during which stones were thrown by the belligerents. One man was knocked down and his antagonist beat him on the head with a paving stone. All the participants were using the foulest language during the fight.

Appeal Abandoned.

Counsel for Motorman Barker and Conductor Acton, who were yesterday fined $10 each in the Police Court and sentenced to serve five days in jail for running an electric car over and causing the death of William Creegan on south Royal street on May 12, today abandoned their appeal to the Corporation Court and asked that the case be reopened. When the case was called this morning Messrs L. H. Machen and W. U. Varney, counsel for the two men, suggested that they be released upon the payment of $25 each and that the penalty of imprisonment be omitted. It was urged that the men would not be allowed to resume work for the railway company at any occupation while the appeal was pending, and that the lesson of the law would be taught by the payment of the fine, without humiliating the two men by sending them to jail. Justice Thompson concluded to grant the request of the counsel, and Acton and Barker upon the payment of $50 were dismissed.

Land Sale Tomorrow.

Attention is again called to the sale of valuable land near this city which will take place tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock on the premises. The land is situated in the vicinity of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, near this city, and is in two tracts, the first of which contains between 14 and 16 acres and is improved by a house and other buildings. The second tract contains 49 acres and 61 poles adjoining the first tract and Smith's and Snowden's lands and binding for a short distance on the Leesburg pike. This sale will afford an opportunity for persons desiring to build residences between Alexandria and the Theological Seminary. Mr. Samuel H. Lunt will be the auctioneer.

Alexandria Free Kindergarten

At Lee Camp Hall on Friday evening, May 31, at 8 o'clock, will be held the annual meeting of the Alexandria Free Kindergarten Association, to which the public is most cordially invited. The following speakers are expected: Mrs. May Minnigerode Andrews, formerly of Alexandria, also Miss Holeman and Mr. Height, both representatives of the Neighborhood Settlement in Washington. Music will be contributed by Mrs. Woolls and Mrs. Hulfish. A large attendance is earnestly requested.

Rehearsal.

The committee in charge of the ceremonies at the Confederate monument, Friday afternoon, May 24, request the singers of the city to meet at the Confederate Veterans' Hall, tomorrow, Thursday, night, at 8 o'clock, for rehearsal.

Fatal Accident.

John Barker Hale was struck on the head by a piece of bark yesterday while at work in a saw mill near Annandale, Fairfax county, and almost instantly killed. The bark fell into the machinery and was hurled with great force against the head of the unfortunate man, fracturing his skull. The deceased leaves a widow and four children. His remains were brought to this city and the funeral will take place tomorrow from Demaine and Son's undertaking establishment.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will also be held at the Children's Home, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The large building being erected for the W. A. & Mt. V. Ry. Co., just outside the grounds at Mount Vernon by Mr. J. D. Knight, is fast reaching completion and will soon be roofed in.

There were but two cases before the Police Court this morning, that of a white and a colored man both charged with disorderly conduct. The former was fined $2.50 and the latter dismissed.

A fire occurred in the old City Hotel building yesterday caused by the careless kindling of a fire in a room which had not been occupied for some time. The flames were extinguished before much damage had been done.

A gentleman from Washington was in this city today making inquiries concerning the presentation in this city last week of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." He stated that those engaged in this play had infringed upon the copywright held by others.

A young man living in the First ward who was riding a bicycle near the intersection of Prince and Royal streets yesterday evening collided with a colored man and knocked him against an iron electric pole. The man's head was cut by the accident.

Army War College Ready for Use.

In little more than three years since President Roosevelt laid its cornerstone, the War College of the United States army has been finished. General Mackenzie, Chief of Engineers, has notified the Secretary of War that the new building is ready for occupancy.

Designed by McKim, Mead & White, the War College is the most striking feature of a great military improvement scheme. It occupies a prominent site in the Washington Barracks reservation, overlooking the Potomac. To this college will come the picked men, the cream, of the army, to receive instructions in broader and more advanced problems of warfare. At one end of the building stands the statue of Frederick the Great, presented to the United States by Emperor William.

In architecture and in construction the War College is a remarkable creation. The cost was nearly $700,000, and the entire work was done by day labor under the supervision of Major John S. Sewell of the Engineer Corps.

The building is in the form of a cross, with a dome at the intersection. The whole is after the Roman basilica style. Brick and Indiana limestone from the exterior walls, and the roof is of dark slate. Unobtrusive dignity characterizes the architectual design. In front and at each end is an entrance pavilion, gable above and massive piers and Ionic columns beneath. On the front, flanking the central pavilion, are pilasters several feet lower than the Ionic columns.

Despite the fact that it is only three stories high, the War College is well protected from fire. In the floors, partitions and stairways the army engineers have made liberal use of hollow tile blocks chosen as the safest material for the purpose. Thus they have made the college practically indestructible.

Inside, on the main floor, is a lecture room that will seat 225 men. The plan of the interior is very similar to that of many modern university buildings. The distinct feature is a central rotunda.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free Book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

To Fight Labor Unions.

The National Association of manufacturers continued the business sessions of its convention at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York yesterday. A series of interesting papers was read and addresses made by the government officials, as well as by committee heads of the association.

The most important action taken was the appointment by President Van Cleave of a committee of thirty men to consider ways and means to raise $500,000 a year for three years, to be devoted to a campaign against the labor unions.

The association has been, so far as its individual members were concerned, against the labor unions for years, David M. Parry, of Indiana, the last president, having been a leader in the anti-union agitation. This, however, is the first time that a project for raising a huge fund to fight the labor unions has been taken up by the association.

He Fought at Gettysburg.

Davis Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 50c.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with acme people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, acme all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of
